DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 8 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claim 8 refers to specific equipment by trade name which is not proper because to be claimed the equipment must be defined as what it comprises rather than by a trade name. Claim 17 is incomplete as material was not included in the claim.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The independent claims recite heating the photoresist layer "after exposure". The recitation of "after exposure" is indefinite because two exposure steps are recited and it is not clear which exposure is being referred.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. Claims 1, 3-6, 13, 22-27, 30 and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Eisele (US Patent 6,117,622).

Eisele teaches a process of controlled shrinkage of photoresist features. The photoresist features are exposed to heat and ultraviolet radiation to shrink the features the desired amount (see column 5, lines 51-55). Column 6, lines 5-10, teaches the heating occurs at a temperature of 20-230°C, preferably 120-230°C and more preferably 160-230°C. Further processing of the semiconductor wafer occurs using the photoresist features (see column 7, 37-42).

7. Claims 1-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Mohondro (US Patent 6,503,693).

Mohondro teaches forming altered photoresist features. Column 7, lines 58-67, teaches the process where radiation which can be ultraviolet, electron beam or ion and heat are used to modify the features. Column 6, line 66 to column 7, line 7 teaches that the modified photoresist features are used in an etching process. Claims 1 and 4 recite a process using heat and the radiation along with exposure to a chemical compound. The claims of the present application use open language ("comprising") which can include additional steps in the process. Claim 41 recites that the photoresist shrinks after the processing occurs. Claim 42 recites that the radiation can include electron beam, ultraviolet or ion.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 2, 14-21, 28 and 29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eisele.

The teachings of Eisele have been discussed above. Eisele does not teach the specific conditions recited in the claims.

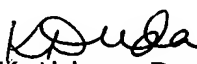

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have determined the operating conditions of the exposure without undue experimentation because the recited conditions are within operating conditions known in the art.
